ABSTRACT

This report presents a compilation of bibliographic material gathered during an evaluation undertaken by the Human Resources Research Organization for the U.S. Department of Labor. The evaluation concerned a special USTES Counselor Training Program designed to provide the equivalent of one year of full-time education in vocational counseling with special emphasis on the disadvantaged client. The references cited in this report were collected from 23 Counselor Training Programs being conducted in colleges and universities across the country. They have been arranged alphabetically by author and then cross-referenced by subject area. The bibliography will be a part of the Final Report for this project. It is being distributed also as a Research Project to facilitate early utilization. This bibliography should be useful to academic staffs currently conducting counselor training programs as well as those organizing new programs. Employment Service staff members may find the bibliography helpful in designing and conducting in-service training programs and as background material for studies in vocational counseling and the culture of the economically disadvantaged. FOREWORD

This report represents a compilation of bibliographic material gathered during an evaluation undertaken by the Human Resources Research Organization for the U.S. Department of Labor. The evaluation concerned a special USTES Counselor Training Program designed to provide the equivalent of one year of full-time education in vocational counseling with special emphasis on the disadvantaged client.

The references cited in this report were collected from 23 Counselor Training Programs being conducted in colleges and universities across the country. They have been arranged alphabetically by author and then cross-referenced by subject area. The bibliography will be a part of the Final Report for this project. It is being distributed also as a Research Product to facilitate early utilization.

This bibliography should be useful to academic staffs currently conducting counselor training programs as well as those organizing new programs. Employment Service staff members may find the bibliography helpful in designing and conducting in-service training programs and as background material for studies in vocational counseling and the culture of the economically disadvantaged.

The project, of which this report is a part, is being conducted by HumRRO Division No. 2, Fort Knox, Kentucky, Dr. Donald F. Haggard, Director. It is being conducted under sponsorship of the Office of Policy, Evaluation and Research; Manpower Administration; U.S. Department of Labor (Contract No. 43-1-014-51). Mr. George Dougherty is the Project Officer and Mr. James Lofgren is the Assistant Project Officer.

This bibliography is a cumulative listing of bibliographies received by UMKC researchers from academic staff members participating in the USTES special Counselor Training Program. The citations, listed in alphabetical order by author, include books, journals, and articles within journals. They are then cross-referenced by number according to subject area. Any one citation may be listed under more than one subject area.
